

Bio:

Andrei Rogers is a Principal CyberSecurity Analyst for Blackbaud. A native Austinite, Andrei graduated from Texas State University with a degree in Criminal Justice. He has worked in the tech field for over 20 years. He enjoys volunteer work in the community on a number of social causes and is currently volunteering with the non-profit organization Austin Urban Technology Movement led by Michael Ward to address the diversity gap in the tech space. In his free time, Andrei enjoys outdoor activities, catching up with the latest Cyber Security News, and doing home-improvement projects with the wife.