

Dyan Lofton is a licensed attorney and practices law in Travis County, Texas. Ms. Lofton has found her passion in public service and civic engagement within her community. In her spare time, she volunteers with nonprofit organizations and mentors youth.

She holds a Bachelor of Arts in English (UT San Antonio), Minor in Communication (UT San Antonio), Master of Arts in Technical Communication (Texas State University), and Juris Doctor in Law (Texas Southern University—Thurgood Marshall School of Law). Currently, she serves on the board of 212 Catalysts and Black Austin Democrats and is an active member in a host of other local organizations.